

KENNIDEE

Sunshine best describes here spirit bright pure and warming. Her eyes the purest blue filled with innocence and longing. A smile that when it is true is light that fills the dark sky at night. Dreams and fears pour out of her face with every felt emotion. Her heart is hard from years of pain and despair. But, underneath lies pure gold. A kind young woman dying to make something of her self, paralyzed with fear and failure and disappointment. Seared by experience love and truth and fear of disaster. Beautiful beneath a large shell desperately trying to break through to freedom. Afraid of emotion and displays of love from fear that they will break her armor. A sad abused neglected child trying to grow into a healthy strong woman and find her place in the world.
